The lesson would begin with the students watching the video clip “Exploring Our Past Native Peoples of The Great Plains” from the WaLakota YouTube site. The students will share some of the interesting facts they learned from the video. During this discussing, the teacher will write down the information on one side of a Venn Diagram.	The lesson would begin with the students watching the video clip “Peoples of the Woodlands” from the WaLakota YouTube site. The students will share some of the interesting facts they learned from the video. During this discussing, the teacher will write down the information on the other side of a Venn Diagram. Then the students, as a class, will complete the middle of the Venn Diagram by writing the things the plains tribe and woodlands tribes have in common.	The students will work with a partner to complete some form of informational project, about Oceti Sakowin plains or woodlands tribes. Students will then decide how they would like to present their project, in a PowerPoint, a newspaper article, a brochure, or an informational book.
